2nd Annual Western NC College Access Summit
Building on the success of last year's Summit, Appalachian State University will again host a one day conference featuring guest speakers and break-out sessions focusing on successful college access programing.

increasing the number of students who pursue educational opportunities after graduating from high school.

The day will include a panel discussion with Admissions Directors from Colleges and Universities in NC, a Keynote address and lunch with Brenda White-Wright, as well as breakout sessions and workshops. Break-out sessions will include a variety of college awareness topics such as Creating a College Going Culture at Your School, Navigating the CFNC Counselor Portal, and National Perspective on College Access. Registration for the conference is open! The registration fee is $25.

We hope you will be able to join us!

Quotes from last year's Summit:
"In times of little to no staff development dollars, this conference was extremely helpful and informative and provided me with an opportunity that our county cannot fiscally provide. Many thanks"
"The Summit was well-organized, the sessions were informative, and the mix of people was helpful for making useful contacts for the future."

NCACHE is committed to building strategic partnerships to strengthen our local communities through college access and success.
